Amazingly, despite being shot in the left side of his head from very close range, Louie was actually talking that very night. He even Tweeted to his fans the day after the shooting, with a picture of himself and a heartfelt "Merry Christmas." He wound up making a full recovery, and has not suffered from any sort of cognitive issues as a result of the shooting.

Head and neck lymphedema may be visible or internal. In most cases, it can be reversed, improved, or reduced if treated promptly. Patients with untreated lymphedema may be more at risk of complications such as cellulitis, or an infection of the tissues. Untreated cellulitis, if severe, can be dangerous and could lead to further swallowing or ...
