The optimal utilization of renewable energies is a crucial factor toward the realization of sustainability and zero carbon in a future energy system. Tidal currents, waves, and thermal and salinity gradients in the ocean are excellent renewable energy sources. Ocean tidal, osmotic, wave, and thermal energy sources have yearly potentials that exceed the global power demand of 22,848 TWh/y. This ...

Kinetic energy is a form of energy associated with the motion of a particle, single body, or system of objects moving together. We are aware that it takes energy to get an object, like a car or the package in , up to speed, but it may be a bit surprising that kinetic energy is proportional to speed squared. This proportionality means, for ...
